at 0400 on Saturday 24 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry and bright, but heavy rain arriving later.

Today:
Any early low cloud will steadily burn back to the coast, leaving a bright morning for most, with warm sunny spells. However, heavy and perhaps thundery rain, will gradually move in from the southwest later. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Tonight:
Rain eases through the evening, although a scattering of showers will persist throughout the night. Rather cloudy for all and remaining mild and humid once again. Minimum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Sunday:
Rather cloudy for most places at first on Sunday. Some sunny spells developing, but also heavy, possibly thundery, showers through the afternoon. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Remaining rather unsettled into the new week. Breezy at times with rain or heavy, at times thundery, showers. Feeling cooler.
